Multidisciplinary Databases

Start your research in Academic Search Premier (ASP) or Expanded Academic ASAP (EAA).

These databases index thousands of journals and magazines where you will find full text for many of the articles you locate.

Subject Specific Databases

Education Research Complete

ERC (not to be confused with ERIC described below) boasts indexing of almost 3000 journals (approximately two thirds in full text), plus the content of books and conference proceedings. This relatively new database has been recognized as worthy competition for the ERIC database.

ERIC (Education Resource Information Center)

The Education Resources Information Center remains an essential source for education research.

Although several enhancements have improved the "free" version of ERIC on the Web, we think the features of our subscription-based ERIC will streamline access to journals as well as documents in full text. Our new EBSCO interface includes an interlibrary loan request form when materials are not in full text online.

PsycINFO

Find indexing for book chapters, dissertations and journal articles in the foremost indexing service for the literature in psychology and related fields. There are links to full text of over 500 journal titles in the Psychology & Behavioral Sciences Collection and to PsycArticles. Use for topics such as wilderness therapy or for subjects with a special populations' emphasis such as learning disabled.

Science Full Text Select

The indexing of 320 journals combines content from three H.W. Wilson science databases: Applied Science & Technology, Biological & Agricultural and General Science indexes.

Periodical Titles

We have access to full text of articles online in our electronic databases or in print in the JSC Library periodical collection for visual arts publications. Search the FIND JOURNALS option on the library home page to locate complete holdings information for these and other titles:
