The Department of Education has flagged your record for additional information because you had prior student loans discharged due to permanent disability. In order to be considered for student loan funds now, you will need to affirm and sign the following statements or withdraw your application for a student loan.

Affirmation Statement

I acknowledge that my prior student loan was canceled due to my total and permanent disability.

In order to be eligible for future student loans, I will obtain a certification from a physician that I am able to engage in substantial gainful activity.

I acknowledge that the new loan cannot later be cancelled on the basis of any present impairment unless that condition substantially deteriorates.

I understand that in the case of any loan cancelled on or after July 1, 2001, due to my total and permanent disability, if I receive a new loan within three years after the date I became totally and permanently disabled as certified by my physician, collection activity will resume on any such loan.

By signing below, I declare that I understand my responsibility to repay any future loans that I may borrow.
