IMPORTANT THINGS TO KNOW • IMPORTANT THINGS TO DO

Please familiarize yourself with JSC policies and procedures, which are posted online at: www.jsc.edu/policiesandprocedures.

OFFICIAL JSC COMMUNICATIONS & OTHER FUNCTIONS ARE CONDUCTED PRIMARILY ONLINE.

JSC uses email to communicate official business to students. Upon registration, you will be provided a free JSC email account. It is your responsibility to stay up to date with email sent to your JSC email account. If you choose to forward your JSC email to another email address, you remain responsible for the contents of any official message, including attachments, sent by the College. In addition, you are expected to use VSC Web Services to access class schedules, unofficial transcripts and grade reports.

Within 48 hours of registering for a course, all students will have access to the portal, JSC email and VSC Web Services. (See box.)

As mandated by federal law, students who are U.S. citizens must provide their Social Security Number when registering for the first time. (This requirement does not apply to students enrolled in contract courses paid for by an external entity.) Your SSN is closely guarded and kept in strict confidence by the Vermont State Colleges. Many instructors use the online portal system to post assignments and supplemental course materials. If you are taking online or hybrid courses, you may be required to regularly access the course through the portal (Hybrid courses are courses that are conducted partly online and partly in class.)

ACCESSING THE PORTAL, EMAIL & VSC WEB SERVICES

Before you can access the portal, JSC email and VSC Web Services, you must activate your account. This should be done before the semester starts. If you experience difficulties accessing your account, submit a request for assistance to the Help Desk at <http://helpdesk.vsc.edu>.

You will need to provide your College ID number and the last 4 digits of your SSN. Follow the online instructions to set a password, which will activate all of your accounts. Your user name will be listed on the page after you activate your account.

EMAIL:

To access your email account through the portal, click on the email link at the right of the screen after logging into the portal.

VSC WEB SERVICES:

To access VSC Web Services, log on to the portal (http:// MyJSC.jsc.edu), select the VSC Web Services box at the bottom left, then select the “Students” tab.

DRUGS, HERBS & SOCIETY. (3 CR).

JUDY ROSOVSKY, MA.

Learn the biology, sociology and culture of drug and herbs—both recreational and prescriptive drugs and over-the-counter herbs in America. Colorado has made marijuana purchase legal. Recent evidence suggests active ingredients in marijuana help people deal with pain and children with epilepsy. Why do drugs have to be approved by the FDA, but herbs can be sold in the grocery store with no requirements for testing? Why are drugs addictive? Are drug and herb interactions dangerous? Judy Rosovsky co-teaches in both the Behavioral Sciences and the Environmental & Health Sciences Departments. For more information, contact Judy.Rosovsky@jsc.edu

SOC-3080-JH01

We begin with Dr. Hippocrates, the father of the Hippocratic Oath taken by all medical physicians ... and explore the emergence of alternative medicine. Today, 50 of our top U.S. hospitals include alternative medical professionals who practice in concert with physicians to offer optimal integrative care to patients. Sept 6 is an in-person day to explore hands-on sessions and consultations with certified, insured and experienced alternative medical professionals in a stress-free setting. Dr. Green directs the Wellness & Alternative Medicine program in the Department of Behavioral Sciences at Johnson State College. For more information, contact Susan.Green@jsc.edu

TOPICAL SEMINAR: HEALING PLACES IN VERMONT & ON EARTH. (1CR).

DR. PATRICK MACMANAWAY, MD.

Dr. MacManaway travels the world helping farmers, ranchers, businesses and homeowners diagnose the health of the places where they live. Can a place cause illness? Trained in Geomancy and dowsing, Dr. MacManaway will take you on a journey of sacred places of Vermont and on the Earth. Why do people, animals and plants thrive in some places but not others? The answer to this question is fascinating. Dr. MacManaway will show you the surprising evidence for how places can be healthy—or not. Dr. MacManaway is a medical physician and past-President of the British Society of Dowzers who offers workshops on environmental health, geopathic stress and earth acupuncture. He lives in Vermont, however, he can most often be found somewhere in the world helping people create a healing relationship with the land. For more information, contact patrickmacmanaway.com

SOC-4730-J06

TOPICAL SEMINAR: NATIVE AMERICAN HEALING. (1 CR).

DR. LEWIS MEHL-MADRONA, MD, PH.D.

Noted physician, scientist and author Dr. Lewis Mehl-Madrona will take you on a great adventure to explore how Native American stories and ceremonies are used for healing disease and living well. Being in balance, or wicozani, and living a good life in right-relationship to all the beings in the cosmos are all part of wellness in many Native American traditions. This course will ground students in commonly shared Native American ideas of healing through insight into Lakota traditions. First, we will explore the 7 Lakota sacred ceremonies that take place during the calendar year: The Inipi, the purification ceremony; Hanbleceya, or 'crying for a vision' (sometimes called vision quest); the Wiwanyag Wicapi; the Sun Dance; the Hunkapi or making of relatives; the Isnati Awicaliwanpi, girl's coming of age; the Tapa Wankaye, throwing of the ball; and the Nagi Gluhapi or keeping of the soul. The students will be introduced to knowledge sharing through a traditional talking circle format. Next, with this grounding in the meanings of ceremonies, students will prepare for and participate in an Inipi, a purification lodge, led by the course instructor and his assistant. Following the Inipi, time permitting, we will explore 'doctoring' in Native American terms. For more information, contact mehlmadrona@gmail.com & artbarb@gmail.com

SOC-4730-J08

TOPICAL SEMINAR: THE HARP: MUSIC & HEALING I. (1CR).

LINDA SCHNECK, MA., CMTH

Linda Schneck was recently featured on Christmas Day on Vermont Public Radio playing her harp for students at Johnson State College to show them the way music can be used for healing and wellness. As a music-therapist, she prescribes music with harp and voice to promote physical, emotional, and spiritual healing in palliative care settings around the state of Vermont. Have you ever wondered why music affects your body and spirit in different ways? Considering interdisciplinary research within the fields of neurophysiology, psychology, and biomusicology, we will examine the raw materials of music in relation to the "musical nervous system" of our bodies, and through the harp discover how "organized sound" can be healing in a holistic way. The field of therapeutic music is growing and many hospitals and health care facilities are using music as a non-pharmacological response to aid in healing, promote health and wellness, and to assist in the dying process. For more information, contact lindamschneck@msn.com

DRUG-FREE SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITIES ACT

The U.S. Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act prohibits the unlawful possession, use or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol on public property. Johnson State College supports this law and enforces these policies:

1. Unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees on JSC property or as part of any school activity is prohibited.
2. Students and employees who violate this policy will be disciplined by the College. Such discipline may include the successful completion of an appropriate rehabilitation program, expulsion from College, termination of employment and/or referral to proper legal authorities for prosecution.

3. In addition, violations may result in punishment under state or federal law, including fines or incarceration.
4. The College encourages students and employees to recognize that using illicit drugs and abusing alcohol will significantly impair their health and may lead to serious illness or death.

5. While the College does not provide formal counseling, treatment or rehabilitation programs for alcohol or drug abuse during the summer term, we can provide information about available programs upon request and in strict confidence during the summer term.

For questions regarding this policy, please contact the Dean of Students.
